EXEMPTION BOARD CONTINUES IN SESSION

HALF OF BULLOCH COUNTY'S QUOTA HAS BEEN CERTIFIED TO DISTRICT BOARD.

Bulloch county's exemption board are still in the midst of the difficult task of selecting soldiers to represent us in the great war against German aggression. For nearly three weeks the members have been on the job. Four hundred men had been examined up to last Friday night, and approximately half of this number had been rejected for physical deficiencies. Of the number who had passed the required examination, about ninety per cent filed claims for exemption. The difficult job for the board—the work which calls for the finest sense of justice—has been the passing upon these exemption claims. The first quota of men was certified to the district board yesterday and comprised 109 names. Of this number, 19 had failed to appear before the board and seven had already enlisted in some branch of the service. This left only 83 men who may reasonably be counted on to answer for enrollment when the full quota is made up. The county gets credit for 7 enlisted men in her quota of 209, and the 19 absentees will be posted as deserters and will be taken up as opportunity affords and dealt with by court-martial.

Our last week's issue there was published a complete list of 360 men who had been called up to Thursday morning, showing those who had passed, those who had been rejected, those whose claims had been declined and those whose claims had been allowed; also those who had filed no claims.

Herewith is a summary of the work done by the board since that time:

The physical requirements having been changed, the following have been re-examined and accepted and filed exemption claims:

Wiley F. Floyd, Halcynondale, 2. T. A. Dornay, Statesboro, R. 2. Jesse Jenkins, Brooklet.

Ben J. Rushing, Statesboro, R. 2. Chas. K. Bland, Statesboro, R. 4. G. W. Bodford, Statesboro, R. 7. David Little, Statesboro.

HOOK-WORM EPIDEMIC AMONG ARMY RECRUITS

Washington, Aug. 21.—Discovery of hookworm infection in forty-seven out of seventy-five militia recruits recently mobilized for war service has caused public health service authorities to recommend prompt examination of all units of the national guard and national army at present organized, especially those from the warmer portions of the country.

Prevalence of hookworm was found by Dr. C. Wardell Stiles of the public health service at a government reservation where he was making experiments. Complaint by a recruit not feeling well, after outdoor duty, resulted in medical examination. Hookworm infection was found. Other examinations showed a high percentage of hookworm.

Dr. Stiles has reported to the public health service that failure to treat hookworm cases undoubtedly will result in unjust and preventable punishment of soldiers for offenses due to remedial conditions. Danger of a widespread epidemic of hookworm in Europe is pointed out if even light cases are sent to the trenches.

DUTY OF AMERICANS TO STAND BY HER ALLIES

HELP TO FIGHT DEMOCRACY'S BATTLES OR TO ADMIT WE ARE COWARDS.

(By George Ade, of the Vigilantes)

If you had approached the average citizen of the United States in June, 1914, and had asked how his sympathies lay as to the commercial warfare going on between Great Britain and Germany, the chances are that he would have shown a cold indifference and utter lack of partisanship. As between Great Britain, recorded in all school books as our hereditary foe, and Germany, a country that sent us many of our most amiable, industrious and useful citizens, the chances are that he might have expressed a good natured desire to have Germany get the upper hand in the markets of the world.

Only five years ago the prosperous Americans who made frequent voyages to Europe or the West Indies showed a marked preference for the Hamburg-American or the North German Lloyd. You would find on one of these German boats an almost fraternal relationship between the officers and the first class passengers. I was on a big German ship and I recall with some shame, that we celebrated the Kaiser's birthday and sent him a long cablegram of congratulations and good wishes.

Our students of music and art, our families seeking the placidity of an older world atmosphere, our young doctors and surgeons have flocked to Berlin and Vienna and Munich and Dresden, have adjusted themselves easily and comfortably to the German manner of living and have come home with a sincere affection for German friends.

Of all languages other than English, German has been favored in our public schools. The accepted govt. for a child of wealth has been a fraulein.

When England subjugated the Boers, our sympathies ran with the Boers, although the war was between an English speaking people and a race related to the continental Teutons and we got all our war news from British sources.

We have had two great waves of immigration from Germany. Great Britain sent to us only the Irish and they came to increase our distrust and dislike of the so-called British speaking cousins.

We have fraternized with the Germans, emulating their glorious examples as to foaming beverages and Frankfurter sausages, but we have always shied at an Englishman fresh from his own shores.

What I am trying to lead up to is this rational conclusion: That in the closing days of July, 1914, there was in this country no deep-seated racial prejudice in favor of the Anglo-Saxon as against a resident of the German Empire.

To begin with, we are not an Anglo-Saxon people. We are a composite—a melting pot mixture. We do not even speak the English language. I can prove that by the literary reviews of Great Britain.

Only a few alarmists and extremists ever suggested that we were in danger of a German invasion and the man who wanted to talk about the coming European war couldn't find any one to talk to. Why, David Starr Jordan had demonstrated by higher mathematics and biological research that such a calamity as a general European war was an absolute impossibility and that it was criminal folly for us to build up an army and navy with money that might be devoted to the strengthening of each Congressman in his own district. Dr. Jordan is still running around, trying to collect the fragments of his bustled theories. He is our best authority on fishes and he proves it every time he talks about war.

All the soothing assurances of the peace lovers have come to naught. This time the cry "Wolf!" was not a false alarm. The unbelievable thing has happened. We are at war with our friends of yesterday. We have marked as an enemy every man who gives undivided allegiance to the Kaiser. We know that the Kaiser would, if he could, do to us ten times over what he did to unoffending Belgium.

In Germany it is commonly believed that the pro-ally sentiment over here is a poisonous product, encouraged and fostered by British falsehoods. We are a simple and credulous people, glibly and lacking the long vision of those who would build empires and control large destinies.

If there any measure of truth in their belief that we have been misled and hood-winked by Britain? Now that we are in the war, can any man convince himself that we might have kept out of it? Should we have refused to sell munitions to the allies? Could we have represented and held in check our feeling of gratitude to France for service rendered long ago?

If we can give straight answers to these questions we are doubly fortified for the war.

And if these questions suggest themselves to us time and time again it is not because we have our doubts, but because the more judiciously and cold-bloodedly and impartially we cross-examine ourselves, the more evident it becomes that we either had to go into this war or surrender our charter as a free people.

Two prodigious facts stood out before us at the beginning of the struggle. All the sophistries and in-directions of the diplomats, all the green books and blue books and white books. Howling the world, all of the libraries that will be written in explanation and defense never can remove or even alter these two mountain peaks of truth.

One fact was that Germany deliberately forced the war because it seemed that the fortune day had arrived when the continent of Europe could be pounded into submission.

The other fact was, that Germany deliberately broke her word of honor and outlawed herself by the brutal invasion of Belgium.

With these two facts looming in front of them, the American people immediately and instinctively turned against Germany. Our sympathies were given wholeheartedly to the allies because they couldn't go anywhere else. The issues were too plain. The evidence was too unmistakable. Great Britain and France did not lead us. We were led by an old fashioned and elemental preference for decency and fair play.

After that we sold food and munition to the enemies of Germany.

The Germans have always insisted upon their right to sell guns and shells anywhere in the world at any time. Our soldiers in the Spanish-American war were killed by German bullets fired from German guns. Every Filipino insurgent killed in ambush to get one of our men carried a German weapon that had been smuggled to him.

We had a right to sell our products to Great Britain and France. And now, thank goodness, we can say openly what we have felt all the time, that it was our duty to supply them, a good many dark places are being illuminated. This war has vindicated British policies and crowned France with a glory that never can perish.

Germany, with all her cleverness, foresight and preparedness for any contingency has persistently blundered in her guessing as to other nations. Germany played every other country in the world for either a fool or a coward. France could not long resist because her army was disorganized and her people lacked heroic fibre. Belgium would yield if it saw an invincible army crossing the frontier. Great Britain dared not come in. If she did, Ireland would rebel. Egypt would uprise, there would be civil war in India, the Boers would fight for Germany and Canada might be seized by the United States.

Russia was to be lambasted and corrupted. The Balkan states were to be had for the picking. The qualities which enable a people to wage war successfully—tenacity, obedience to law, unflinching loyalty, the willing spirit of sacrifice, the ability to husband resources and concentrate energies—these were not to be found anywhere except in Germany.

The disappointment of Germany has been the triumph of democracy. We find the London cockney fighting alongside of the Canadian, the New Zealander, the Arab from Sudan, the Irishman from Cork, Sikh and Ghorakhs from India, the Boer Dutchman from South Africa. Which means that Great Britain is on the square and we have a very definite suspicion that we are trying to be on the square. There isn't a reasonable doubt on the horizon. We are lined up with the friends of humanity against the archdevils of despotism.

If the Lusitania had not been sunk; if our men, women and children had not been murdered; if our flag had not been fired upon; if we had not received insolent orders to tie our ships to the docks; if spies and agents had not blown up our factories; if Mexico and Japan had not been urged to attack us; if Germany had never would belong in this war just the same, and duty would call us to do the very work we are taking up today.

GRUBER testified that his dealings with Cherey and Bernfield consisted solely of efforts to have his son exempted. He declared his son was only 19 years of age and had registered by mistake.

Previous testimony by Abraham Leichter, on whose information the government started the investigation, was to the effect that Gruber informed Leichter he could get a certificate of exemption if he paid Bernfield $300.

For Pleasure And Profit GRANT SIX $875

THE pleasing lines of the GRANT SIX are invariably commented upon by people who have compared it with other popular-priced cars. And many a car selling for a great deal more than the GRANT SIX is not half so good looking.

Though you may easily afford a higher priced car, why should you?

Your GRANT SIX costing $875 is speedy, powerful, and economical. It will give you 20 miles or more to a gallon of gasoline and is remarkably easy on tires.

The GRANT SIX is built to last for years but most people would rather run a car a year or two and then buy a new car.

The small initial investment and the relatively high values of used GRANT SIXes are an additional reason for buying this car.

A little figuring will convince you that from a business standpoint you cannot beat the GRANT SIX as a sensible buy.

All the pleasure that any car can give you at about half the cost.

MEMBERS OF EXEMPTION BOARD ARE SENTENCED
Pleaded Guilty to Violation of the Draft Law.
New York, Aug. 20.—With two former members of local draft exemption board No. 99 sentenced to two years each in the penitentiary at Atlanta, after they had pleaded guilty to charges of conspiracy to obstruct the selective draft law, federal attorneys announced today that speedy justice would be sought in the case of Kalman Gruher, a dentist indicted as an alleged "go between."
The government charges that Gruher arranged with drafted men for payment of money in return for false exemption certificates.
Louis I. Chester and Dr. A. S. Bernfield are the former members of the board who pleaded guilty.
After Gruher had completed his testimony, attorneys for the defense and the government announced that further evidence will be brief and that Judge Manton expressed a desire that the case be given to the jury at noon tomorrow.
Gruher testified that his dealings with Cherey and Bernfield consisted solely of efforts to have his son exempted. He declared his son was only 19 years of age and had registered by mistake.
Previous testimony by Abraham Leichter, on whose information the government started the investigation, was to the effect that Gruber informed Leichter he could get a certificate of exemption if he paid Bernfield $300.

ever receive the proper balance of food to sufficiently nourish both body and mind during the growing period when nature's demands are greater than in mature life. This is shown in so many pale faces, lean bodies, frequent colds and lack of ambition.

For all such children we say with unmitigated earnestness: They need Scott's Emulsion, and need it now. It possesses in concentrated form the very food elements to enrich their blood. It changes weakness to strength; it makes them sturdy and strong. No alcohol.

SIMPLE HOME METHODS FOR PRESERVING FRUITS

FRUIT PULP BOILED DOWN, FLAVORED, AND DRIED IS USEFUL FOR DESSERTS.

Fruit pastes, as they are called, consist of boiled-down pulp with sugar added according to the acidity of the fruit, and are improved in flavor if several varieties of fruit are mixed. After the fruit paste is made (see recipes), it can be colored red, yellow, or green with harmless vegetable colors. The coloring is stirred into the boiling mass after removing from the fire. Different flavors also can be added at this stage if desired. The paste is poured up in a half-inch layer on flat dishes, marble, or glass slabs, which are first rubbed with a cloth dipped in a good salad oil. The dishes are then exposed to draft for a couple of days, after which the paste is cut into figures. If the paste is well boiled down it is dried more easily. (Many small forms useful for cutting the paste can be had on the market.) The paste can also be cut with a common knife or with a fluted vegetable knife, or it can be cut into round cakes, the center of which is again cut with a smaller circular cutter; there will thus be both rings and small round cakes. The cut paste is placed on paper, sprinkled with crystallized sugar or common granulated sugar. Then it stands again a couple of days exposed to draft, is dipped in crystallized sugar, and packed in a tin or wooden box lined with parchment paper and with layers of the same paper placed between the layers of paste.

STEADFAST CONFIDENCE

The Following Statement Should Form Conclusive Proof of Merit To Every Statesboro Reader

Could stronger proof of merit of any product be desired than the statements of grateful endorsers who say their confidence has been undiminished by lapse of time? These are the kind of statements that are appearing in your local papers for Doan's Kidney Pills. They are twice-told and confirmed with new enthusiasm. Can anyone doubt the following? It's from a resident of Savannah.

W. J. Taylor, plumber, 224 Park Ave., W. Savannah, Ga., gave the following statement in April 1911: "For months my back was weak and painful and I often had to put my hands on my back for support, when I stooped. My kidneys didn't act right, either, and broke my rest at night. Finally I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me all the good in the world. I got quick relief and soon every sign of kidney trouble left me."

On April 21, 1916, Mr. Taylor writes: "I always recommend Doan's Kidney pills when I have an opportunity. I have had no return of kidney trouble." Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Taylor had. Foster-Milburn

NOBODY YET CONVINCED.

Judge Emory Speer, of the United States circuit court, has rendered a decision holding that the conscript law is constitutional. This is no occasion for surprise, nor will it affect the opposition to the law. Indeed, we suspect that those who have been opposed to the law on the ground of its alleged unconstitutionality are still unconvinced.

Judge Speer's judgment will be regarded with scorn, and higher courts will probably be appealed to. And when the higher courts have sustained Judge Speer, still those who oppose the law will be unconvinced.

"There is none so blind as he who will not see." All the courts in the land cannot convince a man who does not want to be convinced. Meantime, the forming of an army is going forward. Those who put themselves in the way of the forward movement are being swept aside, and the people who are willing to do their duty when it is shown them are showing their loyalty where opportunity offers.

After all, these little anti-draft affairs, like that one which was held in Statesboro last Saturday are not without good results. As a means of education they will bear fruit for good. Men who may not realize the seriousness of the situation, or who may be inclined to view it from the standpoint of their own personal convenience or ideas of liberty, are being brought to the realization of what is the right thing to do for their entire country. When they get an insight into the fact that the trenches in France are really but the first line of defense for Americans, they can see the need of sending men and munitions to those front lines—even the need of going themselves. When they are brought to understand that we are not sending men to France to fight for the allies, but that they are needed there to fight for ourselves, the question of conscriptionality will disappear. The truth to tell, the question raised is only a subterfuge. No man is honestly standing back because of his belief that the constitution does not permit him to do. That is an excuse and not a reason. One by one these excuses are being dissipated, and the people are being brought closer to their legal and moral duty.

Information gathered by the department will be turned over to the Food Administration, which will base its operations largely on the statistics supplied. After the survey is finished, monthly reports will be prepared on the supplies of the principal foods, the work will be carried on principally by the Bureau of Markets, the Bureau of Crop Estimates, the Bureau of Chemistry and State Relations Service of the department. Both actual inventories and estimates will be employed. Estimates of the food and feed products on farms will be made for the whole country by the Bureau of Crop Estimates through 35,000 picked co-operators in the field.

Information regarding stocks in wholesale, jobbing, storing, manufacturing and other commercial establishments, including large retail houses, will be obtained by requesting from each concern a statement of the exact amount of each of the various products held by it.

The stocks on hand in small retail shops will be estimated from information gained from a detailed survey of stocks in a number of representative districts. Stocks in the hands of all consumers of the country will be estimated similarly from canvasses of a large number of representative families.

The nearly 100 items on which statistics are to be gathered include grains and seeds, grain-food products, dried fruits and nuts, vegetable fats, sugar, syrups, starch, meat and meat products preserved in tin and other containers, dairy and related products, fish and feed.

NOTE.
All those that expect to attend the Statesboro school can get their admission certificates any time before the school opens. Do not wait until the last day.

KEEP THE FAIR IN MIND.

During the times of stress, it is easy to let slip from one's mind the matters which are not of vital importance. War matters are uppermost in the minds of our people, both young and old, and such matters as county fairs are easily forgotten.

But let's keep our eye on the fair. Bulloch county people are capable of making an educational display which will be profitable to them in after years. Whether the war ends early or late, farming interests are going to continue of greatest importance. An agricultural display cannot fail to inspire higher ambitions in the breast of every farmer. The social features are only secondary, yet they are of value within proper limits.

Every farmer in Bulloch county can be of help to the fair management. No display can be procured without the assistance of the farmer and every man can bring something. The little premiums offered should be incentive, even to those who may not have much interest from a patriotic standpoint.

As we pass along, let us keep our minds on the fair and the opening date—October 24th.

NATION-WIDE FOOD SURVEY TO BEGIN

Washington, Aug. 21.—A nationwide food survey, authorized under the first of the food laws recently enacted by Congress, will be started immediately by the Department of Agriculture.

Plans for the census, announced tonight, show that it will cover nearly 100 items of food and will include supplies on the farms in warehouses, family pantries. A quick survey will be taken first of the supplies of eighteen of the principal articles of diet and probably can be completed in three or four weeks, to be followed by a complete census after the crops are gathered. All of the figures will be as of Aug. 31.

Information gathered by the department will be turned over to the Food Administration, which will base its operations largely on the statistics supplied. After the survey is finished, monthly reports will be prepared on the supplies of the principal foods, the work will be carried on principally by the Bureau of Markets, the Bureau of Crop Estimates, the Bureau of Chemistry and State Relations Service of the department.

Both actual inventories and estimates will be employed. Estimates of the food and feed products on farms will be made for the whole country by the Bureau of Crop Estimates through 35,000 picked co-operators in the field.

Some facts you should know about shoes

There has been a great change in the manufacture of footwear the last two seasons. Leather has been high and scarce and more and more shoes are being made with substitutes for leather in the heels, counters and insoles.

Nowadays, when you buy shoes only from "outside appearance" you're apt to be disappointed in their wear quite frequently. The right way to buy them is by their reputation.

That's why we are so enthusiastic about "Star Brand" shoes. They are made as shoes should be—all good leather from heel to toe—no "paper" or any other substitute for leather in any part of them. They are made for men, women, boys and girls—a shoe for every member of the family—all grades, styles and prices—dress, medium weight and work shoes.

You'll be sure to like "Star Brand" all-leather shoes, not only for their splendid wearing quality, but also for their style, fit and comfort.

Come to our store and let us fit you with what we believe to be the world's best shoes.

JOHNSON BOUND OVER FOR SELLING INTOXICANTS

HAS MAN WHO TESTIFIED AGAINST HIM ARRESTED FOR BEING DRUNK.

In Judge E. D. Holland's justice court Tuesday morning, Sam Johnson, who operates a place of business on the mile branch, south of the city, was bound over to await trial in a higher court charged with selling intoxicants.

The chief witness against him was Jim Campbell, a farmer of the Hagan district. He testified that he and his brother, G. W. Campbell, bought stuff from Johnson Saturday night, which they took to the city and sold. Johnson denied selling anything except cider. Following the preliminary hearing he swore out a warrant for Campbell charging him with being drunk on the highway.

Don't Poison Your Child With that Sickening Calomel.

It is almost a crime to dose children with calomel—that nauseating, poisonous mineral that some folks still think is the one thing that will relieve constipation, headache and other ills. I wouldn't give calomel to a dog unless I wanted to kill it. When you need liver or stomach medicine, use a safe, guaranteed vegetable preparation like Martin's Liver Medicine. It tastes good. It acts powerfully on the liver and bowels without pain or gripping. And it often saves one from a spell of sickness. One of the best known men in Haddock, Ga., is C. H. Keller. On the 12th of May he wrote the following letter to the proprietors of Martin's Liver Medicine:

"I have five children in school and all of them showed decided ailments and were very sluggish. I gave each of them a dose of Martin's Liver Medicine night and morning for two days. Their complexions cleared up and they are now normal children in every respect. The medicine did not interfere with their school work."

If your druggist hasn't Martin's Liver Medicine, he can easily get it for you. Do not accept any substitute. There is no other medicine "just as good."

SWEET POTATO TO GO ON ARMY LIST

GEORGIA'S STATE MARKET BUREAU WINS FIGHT TO PLACE IT ON THE MENU.

Atlanta, Aug. 20.—If the market bureau of the State Department of Agriculture does nothing else this year, information received by Director Lem B. Jackson this afternoon from Washington shows it justified fully all claims that have been made for it as one of the most important branches of the state department. The Market Bureau has flatly won out in its fight to have sweet potatoes included in the war department ration list, after the quartermaster general's department had told the bureau curiously it did not contemplate any change in the list as made up. This means that the increase of 3,500,000 bushels in the Georgia yield, bringing the state this year to a total yield of 10,500,000 bushels, will not have to seek for another market after the farmers of the state had planted with a view to supply army demands.

When Director Jackson found that the potato had been left off the list he undertook to have a revision made in Washington that would have it put on. The quartermaster general's department briefly told him the arrangement of rations had been concluded and closed and it had no disposition to make any change, despite the argument of the Market Bureau in favor of the potato and the declaration that Georgia farmers had planted largely of food crops, including the potato, because they were told the army would need these things and that the war department would permit bulk buying on supplies by farmers direct, where the quantity is large enough of any one article.

None of the other sweet potato growing states saw a way through the situation, but Mr. Jackson took the matter up individually with every Georgia member of Congress, the Senators and everybody else in official life whom he knew in Washington, and insisted that it would be a shame as well as a loss to the Georgia farmers if the army flatly refused this article of food after this state has so enthusiastically responded to the call of the nation to plant food crops for the army, and were told that they were doing the right thing.

For several weeks the persistent efforts to have the ration list changed has been going on, and this afternoon the market bureau was informed from Washington that these efforts have finally succeeded, making unnecessary the meeting which Director Jackson has called to be held in Washington on the 20th, of commissioners of agriculture of all the southern states to back him up in his demand for this crop.

Besides merely putting sweet potatoes on the army ration list this will mean that the use of it as an article of food will be established with thousands who have heretofore known little or nothing of the potato.

COTTON CATERPILLAR ACTIVE IN GA. AND ALA.

MOST HARMFUL COTTON PEST BEFORE BOLL WEEVIL CAME AGAIN CAUSING DAMAGE. Invasion of parts of Georgia and Alabama by the cotton caterpillar, the moth of which has flown across the Gulf of Mexico from South America, has just been reported to the Bureau of Entomology of the United States Department of Agriculture. The caterpillar is a voracious feeder, the bureau warns, and strips cotton stalks almost completely of foliage if its activities are not combated. Several generations of the insect probably will be produced before frost and can be expected to work their way north through the cotton belt, as well as to spread east and west. Planters in the regions likely to be infested, say the department entomologists, should supply themselves with powdered arsenate of lead so that they may combat the insects on their first appearance. The poison is best applied from sacks of duck or double thickness of flour sacking suspended from each end of a pole carried on horseback. The powder may be shaken on two rows of cotton plants at a time.

A convenient outfit is made by using a piece of lumber 3 inches wide by 1 inch thick and about a foot longer than the distance between rows, from which to suspend the sacks. Sacks 6 inches by 20 inches can then be made open on one long side. The edge of this opening can be tacked to the edge and end of the board and an auger hole bored in the latter over each sack. The powder can then be poured into the sacks through these holes and a cork inserted if desired.

The cotton caterpillar was the most serious insect pest of cotton in the United States before the coming of the boll weevil. With the exception of 1911, however, there have been few outbreaks of magnitude in recent years. The moths of the caterpillars are strong fliers as is proven by the flights over the Gulf of Mexico. In early fall moths of late generations often are found as far north as Canada. The insects in all stages are completely destroyed by cold weather.

CONSCRIPTION LAW IS ENACTED IN CANADA

TO DRAFT 100,000 MEN TO REINFORCE FIGHTING DIVISIONS FROM CANADA.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—Conscription became law in Canada today, when Justice Duff of the Supreme Court, acting for the governor general, gave royal assent to the measure.

The bill is for the purpose of raising 100,000 men to reinforce the Canadian divisions fighting at the front. All Canadians between 20 and 45 years may be called. They will be divided into classes according to age, whether married or single.

It is expected that in the near future the first class, consisting of all unmarried Canadians between 20 and 34 years, will be called, and that this class will provide the required 100,000.

After assent had been given, Premier Borden speaking in the House of Commons, asked Sir Wilfrid Laurier to co-operate with him in naming a board of selection to choose local tribunals who are to deal with applications for exemption from military service. Sir Wilfrid replied he would agree to the request of the prime minister, adding, "as the bill is now law, it is the duty of all loyal subjects to see it carried out harmoniously."

WHEAT FOR SALE

Wheat for sale is one of the big important agricultural problems this fall. Many sections have all they need; others at a loss as to where to get it.

Bankers, merchants and local country food stores should get together NOW and solve the problem. The state market bureau stands ready to help. Those who need seed and cannot get it, should apply to the market bureau. Those who have seed to sell should list it with the market bureau.

By all means, Georgia should raise this fall and winter enough wheat, rye, barley and cover crops to take care of herself. We can no longer depend upon outside agencies.

The market bureau is now in business and ready to render service to the producers and consumers. The citizens of the state, and all of them, are welcome to call on it. It will do its very best to respond to their needs.

TWO LITTLE HENS IN EGG-LAYING CONTEST

Atlanta, Aug. 27.—Atlanta poultrymen are back from the international egg-laying contest of the world at Louisville, Ky., are still marveling at the achievement of Lady Walnut, the little brown hen who is not only one of the reigning beauties of the poultry world but established a new record for the world by laying 83 eggs in 83 consecutive days.

The poultrymen declare it was a clear case of personal rivalry between Lady Walnut and Lady Aberdeen, her closest rival. They say the two champions were placed in coops adjacent to each other, and seemed to know they were in a contest, the outcome of which the whole poultry world was awaiting with breathless interest.

No man can enter a strong man's house and spoil his goods except he first bind the strong man; and then he will spoil his house.—Mark 3:24-27.

He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad.

Either make the tree good, and his fruit good; or else make the tree corrupt and his fruit corrupt; for the tree is known by his fruits.—Matt. 12:30-33.

Surely the most rabid follower of Watson must be given pause when he reads the flat-footed grouping of the Thomson agitator with a self-confessed internationalist—a man who owes no country an allegiance or loyalty, who boasts and so conducts himself as owing allegiance only to the world as a whole—like Max Eastman, the editor of the unrepentant market depository in every county in the state. It is giving first attention to those who have requested assistance. Any county who wishes to organize a local depot for the purpose of assembling food products in carload lots for shipment and sale, or wishes to join neighboring counties in this work, should call on the Department for assistance. Many of these local market depots have already been organized. Others are simply awaiting their turn. Each case will be taken up in turn and organization perfected as early as possible. The market bureau is anxious to have every farmer in Georgia feel that it is his, and to call on it for what he wants.

The Department of Agriculture believes the most important thing it is doing right now—at least one of them—is urging the statewide planting of winter wheat.

No plow should be idle this winter. Plant at least two acres of wheat to every plow you have, from October 1st to December 15th, according to your climate, and where wheat grows finest, plant more. The good wheat growing counties should put out at least five or six acres to the plow; in a good many cases the first five acres for a local board will amount to only four or five men, or such a number, and it is believed that they prefer coming to camp in one party than coming one or two a day at different times. In the larger communities a different schedule will probably be worked out and used by the governor.

The war department is of the opinion that every board in the country will, according to the communication just received, have available at least five per cent of its quota by September 15th, and therefore it will not be necessary for the adjutant general of the state to call upon any board for more or less than five per cent for one movement.

Under the new order of special transportation arrangements will be required to move such small parties of selectmen and, therefore, "the adjutant general of the state may leave to local boards the routing of their own men, requiring such boards to send the smallest daily groups by the shortest usually travelled routes" to the mobilization camp.

The governor is authorized to prepare modifications of the mobilization order, as in his judgment, to best accommodate the needs of the troops. The local boards will be directed by the governor to call the men desired, provide for their subsistence, lodging and transportation by the shortest route, and in doing so to direct the original assembly not less than twelve hours before train time, though that provision may be modified by the governor in his discretion.

STATE MARKET BUREAU BEGINS ACTIVE WORK

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT ISSUES SUGGESTIONS OF INTEREST TO FARMERS.

Atlanta, Aug. 27.—The Georgia State Bureau of Markets is now well organized and ready to extend any ready-made hand to the farmer in need in the marketing of their surplus food products.

Blanks have printed upon which any person may specify what he has to sell or what he wishes to buy. These blanks will be furnished to anyone desiring them, upon application. This information is then kept right before the Department, and at the first opportunity the seller and buyer are brought into touch with each other.

Director L. B. Jackson of the market bureau, in accordance with the recent act of the Legislature, has already made his bond of $5,000 and filed it with the Department. He is now prepared to handle every case that needs marketing attention. All who desire any information with regard to the marketing of food products, or wish blanks upon which to list what they have to sell or what they wish to buy, should correspond directly with the Department, and each request will be given prompt attention.

With the sanction of the State Legislature, the Georgia State Bureau of Markets has already gone to work upon the problem of organizing local market depots in every county in the state. It is giving first attention to those who have requested assistance. Any county who wishes to organize a local depot for the purpose of assembling food products in carload lots for shipment and sale, or wishes to join neighboring counties in this work, should call on the Department for assistance. NO NEGROES INCLUDED IN FIRST DRAFT CALL

WANT MEN OF MILITARY EXPERIENCE OR COOKS IN FIRST FIVE PER CENT.

Atlanta, Aug. 27.—No negro selectmen will be sent to Camp Gordon in the first five movements from the states in this district—Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee.

The order from the war department received here Saturday afternoon, changing the previous order of the same date and reducing the first five allotments of men from each of the local boards to one per cent of their quota instead of five per cent—specifies that the object is to place in each camp or cantonment enough men to form the skeleton of an organization, preparatory to receiving and assimilating the larger contingents. The order says: "For this reason it is required that local boards send only white men, and so far as practicable that they send men with some military experience or cooks."

"The careful selection of men for great assistance to the orderly organization of the National Army, and it is hoped that local boards will act with this end in view."

That order comes after the situation that may arise under the previous instructions, Gov. Dorey, after going into the situation had marked that the first of the allotments of men to be called from the local boards in this state should have specified white men, and by that method the camp here would have been organized and gotten in working order. The order says: "For this reason it is required that local boards send only white men, and so far as practicable that they send men with some military experience or cooks."

"The careful selection of men for great assistance to the orderly organization of the National Army, and it is hoped that local boards will act with this end in view."

LOCAL BOARD STILL GRINDS OUT SOLDIERS

EXPECTED THAT QUOTA WILL BE OBTAINED FROM FIRST 300 NAMES LISTED.

The local exemption board is still at work on the task of selecting soldiers for Bulloch's first quota of 209 men.

Until this report has been received (and it is expected within the next day or two), it will not be known exactly the number obtained from the list. MARTIAL LAW DECLARED AT END IN HOUSTON

CITY AGAIN QUIET AND DISTURBANCES AMONG RACES AT AN END.

Houston, Texas, Aug. 27.—Martial law in Houston, enforced because of the killing of seventeen persons during a raid on the city Thursday night by negro soldiers of the Twenty-fourth Infantry, virtually ended last night.

After a conference between Major General George Bell, Jr., and Brigadier General John A. Hullen of the Texas National Guard, it was announced that all saloons and other drinking places would be closed for the night. The actual hour when military control ended, while in every other place the city gave no appearance of being under military government.

While the Chamber of Commerce has expressed itself against the Eight Illinois Infantry, a negro regiment, being brought here when the Illinois Guardsmen came to occupy Camp Logan, there has been no formal action taken to keep the negro soldiers away. Nevertheless, scores of telegrams from citizens are being sent asking it to work towards diverting the Eight Regiment to some other locality.

General Bell has made no recommendation on the subject and says he will not.

"It is a matter that Washington must attend to," he said. "The manner in which Houston has recovered from the disturbance of Thursday night is wonderful. There has not been a single attack on any negro since the tragedy. It would be too much to expect, to expect any community to calmly receive any more negro troops after the action of the 100 men of the Twenty-fourth Infantry."

There is one company of the Illinois regiment here at present. The negroes are held closely to the camp. They will be disposed of with the remainder of the regiment.

Col. G. C. Cross, inspector-general of the Southern Department, who has been gathering evidence of the events that led up to the shooting, said last night that he expected to leave in a few days for Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, to report to Major-General Parker.

"I prefer not to discuss the information I have obtained," he added. "The last of the dead were buried here yesterday."

A member of the Twenty-fourth Infantry, dressed in citizen's clothes, was taken into custody late yesterday by a member of his own race and subsequently was turned over to the military authorities. He gave the name of Jerry Smith. Smith was recognized by a negro who led the soldier or a policeman by telling him he would tell him where two other negroes were hidden.

WILSON TURNS DOWN PEACE PROPOSAL

"EVIL FORCES OF AUTOCRACY BAR WAY TO PEACE," HE TELLS POPE.

Washington, Aug. 28.—President Wilson has rejected the Pope's peace proposals.

In a note dispatched last night and made public here tonight, the President says that while every heart not blinded and hardened by the terrible war must be touched by the moving appeal of His Holiness, it would be folly to take the path of the peace he points out if it does not in fact lead to the goal he proposes.

To deal with such a power as the present rulers of Germany upon the President's plan, declares the President, would involve a recuperation of the strength and renewal of the world dominion policy of the power, now balked, but not defeated, after sweeping a continent with the blood of innocent women and children, and the helpless poor, as well as of soldiers.

The President's reply in full to the Pope is as follows:

"To His Holiness, Benedictus XV, Pope:

"In acknowledgment of the communication of your holiness to the belligerent peoples, dated Aug. 1, 1917, the President of the United States requests me to transmit the following reply:

"Every heart that has not been blinded and hardened by this terrible war must be touched by this moving appeal of his holiness, the Pope, must feel the dignity and force of the humane and generous motives which prompted it and must fervently wish that we might take the path of peace which he so persuasively points out. But it would be folly to take it if it does not in fact lead to the goal he promises. Our response must be based upon the stern facts and upon nothing else. It is not a mere cessation of arms he desires; it is a stable and enduring peace. This again must not be through with again, and it must be a matter of very sober judgment what will insure us against it.

"His holiness in substance proposes that we return to the status quo ante-bellum and that there be a general condition, disarmed upon an acceptance of the principle of arbitration; that by a similar concert freedom of the seas be established, and that the territorial claims of France and Italy, the perplexing problems of the Balkans, be settled.
